We, as a society, should no longer be complicit in ~~not~~ creating more and more ways to contribute to increasing greenhouse gases. It is morally wrong.

But even on a practical level, this project should be rejected. Proponents' talk about jobs is really a smoke screen.

Some people will get jobs, but others, those who rely on our fisheries and our beautiful environment will lose their livelihoods. Worse yet, dead people have a hard time making a living. The health effects will be far more wide-spread than the jobs that are created.
