I hear that coal has put out many food crops. Why would we be failing our farmers. Food is critical. The jobs for our citizens are critical. Let go of needing to WIN and have it all. This Earth is for everyone not just the uber wealthy and powerful to make a game of. Sorry - but that is how it looks to most people.

Poison is not good - coal is poison overload.

People are headed to the point of no return and what good will all the money in the world be then?
