Leave the coal in the ground.
Mining, shipping, selling to foreign market and having the coal burned anywhere else in the world is a serious mistake.
The regard up to the communities through which the many long trains would be transporting the coal is also serious and adds to the reason to close this whole process. Much progress is being made in this country and the world developing renewable energy also justifying this recommendation.

I thank you for enabling this public meeting and comment.
