As a parent, I am concerned about the impact of coal dust ~~and~~ on growing children. With many sources of alternative energy available and other ways to bring new jobs to a community, ~~is~~ trading the health of our children and our earth for the hope that a few more jobs will bring an economic up turn is not a good trade-off. Large corporations are not primarily concerned with the well-being of children, families, and communities. They are concerned about profit. Please investigate the long-term impact of coal terminals on children who live in these communities, especially the health of their lungs, and the overall health of adults who have grown up in coal towns. Please, please stop using & transporting coal!!
