The transport of coal by train through Spokane is already a fact of life. I do not want to see the number of trains per day increased. The citizens of Spokane should not be exposed to the additional coal dust from uncovered rail cars, air pollutants from diesel engines powering the trains and traffic issues from our ground level RR crossings. Spokane will not benefit in any way from increased rail transport of coal. Any new jobs will be in western WA while we suffer the negative effects stated above.

fuels. Many alternatives exist and should be promoted. No government in the world should promote coal burning at the expense of the health of their people. And the USA should not abet any irresponsible government which does so.
