I have traveled to several continents. I have seen the damage coal has left on the water, land, and the health of its people. Many of those countries are already switching from coal to greener alternatives. America is behind. It is time for us to move ahead!

Instead of building export sites to sell an old product to countries that also need to move forward, Stop. Think. Realize a better and healthier alternative for a new profit margin! Use new technologies to build new power that everyone will need.

Your customers will not only be other countries, but they will also be Americans and American companies moving ahead. You will have a new product to sell, jobs to make this product, and profits will come from an entirely new source.

America needs to be more aggressive to stay competitive in the next generations. If you watch the History Channel's presentation of "The Men Who Built America," you would see it is time for the next generation of products to make us great again!!!

Just Do It!!!
