all of the above ^{will be} are affected detrimentally by the coal trains.

The loading of coal @ the terminals along the Columbia will certainly result in spills, I've already seen it along w/ other industries along the river as an Ecology employee.

Also over time it is highly likely one or more of the ships carrying this toxic coal to Asia will sink @ sea or close to ~~land~~ shore = so much toxic pollution.
